

Noelle H. Sproul, Associate General Counsel, Nuveen

Noelle H. Sproul is an Associate General Counsel at Nuveen, a wholly-owned subsidiary of TIAA. The “new” Nuveen combines the investment heritage of TIAA and Nuveen, two 100+ year-old companies, with the goal of helping investors around the world secure their financial future. Ms. Sproul primarily represents Nuveen with respect to investment activity, including private placements, middle market debt, junior capital transactions and equity investments. Ms. Sproul also works on intercompany transactions between Nuveen and TIAA, responsible for documenting the legal transactions while also building relationships in support of the strategic priorities of TIAA and Nuveen. Prior to joining Nuveen, Ms. Sproul was a member in the Charlotte office of Moore & Van Allen, with experience representing banks, placement agents, issuers and borrowers in complex financial services transactions.

Ms. Sproul is a member of the Steering Committee for Nuveen LEAD (Leadership, Education, Advocacy and Development), which is focused on improving diversity and inclusion in the asset management industry and at Nuveen. She also supports efforts within the Nuveen/TIAA legal department with respect to improving diversity & inclusion efforts of the legal industry.

Ms. Sproul lives in Cramerton, North Carolina with her husband and two children. She is an advocate for children with learning differences, advocating for her children and educating other parents (and educators) on the value of early intervention and diagnosis, all with the end goal of changing the conversation and perceptions around learning differences. Ms. Sproul is also a long-time supporter of Thompson Child & Family Focus, an organization dedicated to strengthening children, family and communities.
