Paul Koppel is a lawyer at Clifford Chance in New York who advises insurers, asset managers and institutional investors on ERISA issues in private credit and private placements. He also trains in-house legal and investment teams on spotting ERISA issues before they become deal problems.